Place: Clarion Hotel 16th & H Streets

“Our society projects its fears about sexuality and the independent woman onto lesbians. In our culture, lesbians are usually portrayed as perversions, malcontents, sinners, or man-haters. Real lesbians are virtually invisible, and although gay men have received increased public attention because of AIDS awareness, lesbians have tended to ‘disappear’ more than ever.”

These words were written by Pam Walton, creator and director of a beautiful documentary about who lesbians truly are. “Out In Suburbia” was originally intended to be a Masters degree thesis for Pam and was so widely accepted it is now being nationally distributed to private groups and schools.

The film stars 10 lesbians whose backgrounds range from teachers to entrepreneurs. Not only is this film a documentary about their lives, it was also a coming out experience for eight of the 10 women. Imagine their emotions when this film aired on KQED-TV during Gay Pride Week this year! Especially for Joyce, a school teacher.

The film also received the “Audience’s Favorite Award” during the 1989 Gay and Lesbian Film Festival.

Pam Walton will join us, and, as always, please bring a friend who has never attended a SACWN function, and make an effort to meet someone new.

A limited number of videos will be available for purchase for $75.00. The proceeds from this event will go towards production and distribution costs of the film.

Popcorn will be served, and there will be a no-host bar. This is an event for women only, 21 years or older. For information about tickets see registration form on page 11 or call 486-8985.

See you at the movies!

STEERING COMMITTEE REPORTS

NETWORKING REPORT

The Networking Committee is pleased with the positive feedback we have received regarding the June Networking Party. Thanks for letting us know you enjoyed it and for participating with such enthusiasm. A special thank you to Joyce for coordinating the raffle and to the women who donated their services — Sallie and Eileen (Bed and Breakfast Inn), Wimsey Willow Wrede (massage) and Suzan Pope (haircut).

Are you listed in the lavender pages? The SACWN directory is going to print soon and if you want to advertise your business you need to have your camera ready art to our committee by August 11th. The size of the directory will be 5" x 8". A quarter page ad is $35, a half page ad is $55, a full page ad is $100.

The Networking Committee will contact everyone who indicated on the green directory form that they wanted to advertise in the directory. If you haven't been called, please call Rosanna at 443-6879. You can send your camera ready art with a check to 2533 27th St., Sacramento, CA 95818.

At this month's program you will notice round lavender stickers at THE HUB. These stickers will be provided for those members who wish to identify their occupations on their nametags. We hope this will be an additional way to promote networking.

Special Interest Groups are growing in attendance. Because these groups are offered as a unique SACWN service, to SACWN members, you will be asked at future Special Interest Group meetings to show your SACWN membership card. Please find your SACWN membership card and place it in your purse or wallet.

The Networking Committee is always looking for new volunteers. Please call Rosanna if you are interested in joining this committee.

CORPORATE COORDINATOR'S REPORT

Since I was away on vacation last month, I'll report on the last two months of Steering Committee activity — there has been much!

At the June 6 meeting, major changes were instituted in the role of committee associates in the meetings. We hope that by increasing the participation of associates, we'll have a greater sense of involvement and satisfaction, and broader input into committee decisions.

June 29, 30 and July 1 (most of the holiday weekend!) we spent holed up in a cabin in the Soda Springs area at the Annual Steering Committee Retreat. With the extremely able assistance of consultant Anita Gherardi, we made great strides toward becoming a more cohesive, effective, and healthfully functioning group. Everyone made lots of effort and commitment to see that our meetings run more smoothly, our business gets done more humanely, and that we support each other against burnout and other deadly symptoms of too much work for too few volunteers.

Then, at our July 10 meeting, under Anita's watchful eye, we had our first opportunity to put our newly-learned methods into practice. I think all would agree it was one of our best sessions ever in terms of how we all felt when it was over and the way that business was conducted and things were accomplished. Anita told us we were well on our way, and gave us tips on how to keep ourselves on track in the future. Many, many thanks are due to all involved!

Planning is underway for a comprehensive subscriber survey to be conducted in October so we can get feedback from all of you on where and how you'd like to see your SACWN organization go. Each of you will receive a stamped envelope to return to encourage your participation. PLEASE take this opportunity to express your views to us and the future leadership of the group.

Finally, let me remind you that candidates are needed to run for Steering Committee positions that will open up in October. We're talking two to three evening meetings a month, lots of hard work and satisfaction, being part of a team that is working together to grow and blossom with all of you in SACWN. Seriously, please do think about it, and call me at 444-5868 if you'd like to talk about what's really involved, what jobs are available, and so on.

Enjoy your summer!

LETTER TO NETWORKING COMMITTEE

I just had to let you know how much we enjoyed the presentation on Friday, June 16, 1989.

The location and food were very nice. The program was interesting and very useful. It truly was an excellent example of networking.

Thank you for all the work that went into an excellent program.

NEWSLETTER MASTHEAD CONTEST

The Newsletter Committee is sponsoring a contest to select a new masthead. The current masthead frequently creates printing problems so we're open to new suggestions. The prize will be a cash award of $50.00.

So your mission, if you choose to accept it, is to create a masthead using the following specifications:

- Black and white design,
- Maximum size of 8" x 2",
- Include the words "SACWN" and "Sacramento Area Career Women's Network, Inc."
- May include a logo design.

Please submit your entries no later than October 13, 1989 to: Editor, c/o SACWN, Inc., P.O. Box 661332, Sacramento, CA 95866.

Entries will be reproduced in the newsletter along with the name of the artist, unless otherwise requested. If you submit an entry using a business name, it will be accepted.

Let's hear from all you creative SACWNites!

NETWORKING PARTY WINNERS

The Networking Party on June 16 was fun (see Commentary located elsewhere in this issue) and provided a special treat for some lucky SACWNites.

A haircut from Suzanne Pope of Victoria's was won by Bobbie Cobb. Liz Guyer will be enjoying a massage contributed by Wimsey Willow Wrede. The grand prize, two nights at Sallie and Eileen's Place in Mendocino, was won by Beverly Carrison.

All the winners sported big smiles and expressed enthusiasm about the prizes.

BOOK REVIEW

RAGING MOTHER MOUNTAIN, Pat Emerson,
Naiad Press, 1989
Reviewed by Anne Cowden, SACWN Book Group

Raging Mother Mountain is the story of several women's journeys, separately and together, to find themselves as human beings, lesbians and members of their own community. The title stands for the property purchased by one woman who hopes to build an "Amazon" dream called Wonderland, a place to rejoice in the company of women and a place where women can live, work and love in harmony, free from the homophobia of the outside world. The site of Wonderland is outside a small, rural Oregon community populated by an assortment of people ranging from "rednecks" to accepting human beings.

The book joins together humor and pathos to explore enduring issues that we all face to some degree: the homophobia present in society, struggles with our own inner homophobia, the search for love from someone who will accept us for what we are and value our potential to be more if we so choose. It also explores the pain of rejection by those who do not accept our love for each other, recurring misunderstandings concerning our lifestyle in relationships to children, men, co-workers and the community; the level of comfort about sharing ourselves with one another, and trust in those who may accept us even though they do not share our lifestyle.

The author lacks polished style, but contributes wit and sagacity about her characters and their lives. The characters in this book, however improbable, provide an entertaining reading experience.

Kowalski Moves To Minneapolis, Donald Kowalski Resigns As Guardian, National Committee Closes Down Operation

News release printed verbatim from The National Committee to Free Sharon Kowalski.

"Everything is set in place for a secure future for Sharon," said Tacie Dejanikus, co-chair of the National Committee to Free Sharon Kowalski. "With Sharon's move, we have substantially completed the agenda around which we organized in 1987. Sharon is getting good rehabilitation; she has contact with Karen Thompson and her other friends; she has returned to the Minneapolis area, where she had made her home; we've promoted the book Karen wrote with Julie Andrzejewski, Why Can't Sharon Kowalski Come Home?, to get the facts of the case out to the public; and as a bonus, Donald Kowalski will be replaced as guardian. We're proud of what we've accomplished."

On June 12th, Sharon Kowalski moved to Trevilla of Robbinsdale, an extended care facility near Minneapolis, MN, that provides rehabilitation and transition to less structured care for brain-injured persons. The move is the first step in the rehabilitation plan recommended by Kowalski's therapists at the Miller-Dwan Medical Center in Duluth, as reported to St. Louis County District Court Judge Robert V. Campbell. Meanwhile, Kowalski's father, Donald Kowalski, has requested that he be removed as her guardian.

Kowalski, 32, had been moved to Miller-Dwan by Campbell's order in January for a period of rehabilitation and further evaluation. Prior to that time, she had been kept since 1985 in a nursing home in Hibbing by Donald Kowalski. While there she received little rehabilitation and was prevented from seeing any visitors not approved by her father. Although he became her guardian in 1984, following her 1983 automobile accident, only in September 1988 did she receive full competency tests, which are required at least annually by Minnesota guardianship law.

Kowalski's tests and the subsequent beginning of her rehabilitative care were ordered by Campbell after a motion for Kowalski's restoration to capacity was filed by attorneys for Karen Thompson. Thompson, Kowalski's partner, has been pursuing legal action since 1984 for proper medical care for Kowalski as well as for her right to choose her own visitors. The tests and care program were vigorously opposed by Donald Kowalski, who attempted to prevent them via appeals. Thompson and Kowalski, separated since 1985, met again this past February 2nd.

Sue Wilson, Thompson's attorney, said Donald Kowalski has asked Campbell to terminate his guardianship of his daughter, "because if he can't do it his way he doesn't want to do it." Campbell has specified that he will not appoint Thompson as guardian. His selection of a third party guardian is pending.

Thompson praised the work of the National Committee. "The Committee has achieved a great deal," she said. "Any further areas of question in Sharon's future can be hammered out by my lawyer in court. This nightmare is almost over, and Sharon and I can be free to determine what the future holds for us."

Prior to the move to Trevilla, Kowalski spent several weeks at the Ebenezer Caroline Center in Minneapolis, awaiting a vacancy at Trevilla.

In their September evaluation report the Miller-Dwan doctors wrote, "Ms. Kowalski's level of social and psychological well-being is quite low related to the difficulty of the social situation as well as the chronic nature of her placement in a nursing facility." Their medical report, presented to Judge Campbell in March, recommended that Kowalski move immediately to Trevilla. While there, they wrote, she should prepare "to maximize independent living skills by completing the Transitional Living Program at Courage Center." Finally, they recommended that her ultimate goal be "to return to pre-morbid home environment." The cover letter to Campbell from Dr. Matthew Eckman stated, "We believe Sharon Kowalski has shown areas of potential and ability to make rational choices in many areas of her life. She has consistently indicated a desire to return home, and by that means to St. Cloud to live with Karen Thompson again."

Donald and Della Kowalski have refused to attend any medical or legal meetings regarding Kowalski's care since they saw the March report.

While at the Caroline Center, Kowalski participated for the first time in a medical staffing conference about her care, and received a pass to attend a barbecue with Thompson and other friends. It is expected that her medical team at Trevilla will be aggressive in recommending further activities that allow her to leave the facility.

Between October 1987 and June 1989, the National Committee organized National Free Sharon Kowalski Day on August 7th, 1988, a celebration of Kowalski's 32nd birthday involving nearly 2000 people in 21 cities. They linked 17 local Free Sharon Kowalski committees into a national network. They also brought the case to the attention of the national media, resulting in extensive coverage including the New York Times, Washington Post, St. Petersburg Times, Los Angeles Times, and New York Newsday, and on National Public Radio, CBS "This Morning," and "West 57th Street." The National Committee received the "Matter of Pride" award at Washington, D.C.'s gay pride celebration on June 18th, for service to the lesbian and gay community.

The National Committee reiterates that the story of Sharon Kowalski represents a powerful lesson about the need for all couples who choose not to marry or do not have legal access to marriage to create durable power of attorney documents for their own protection.

Sharon Kowalski may receive cards, flowers, etc., at Trevilla of Robbinsdale, 3130 Grimes Ave. N., Robbinsdale, MN 55422.

For further information after June 30th, contact Karen Thompson at 3070 Fulton Circle, Clearwater, MN 55320.

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

BRIDGE

The bridge group is thriving and continuing to attract new members. Depending upon the desires of the players on a given night, we may play "party bridge," changing partners every few hands for more social interaction, or we may organize into beginners' and intermediates' tables. Joyce's lessons on such topics as opening, overcalling, responding, and the Stayman convention have improved the quality of both the play and the camaraderie. Upcoming dates are August 11 at Lydia and Joyce's and August 25 at Abby's (383-3577). Lessons are at 6:30 p.m. (8/11 review, 1 NT opening, opening leads; 8/25 review, pre-emptive bids, counting tricks). Play begins at 7 p.m. New players, both beginning and experienced, are always welcome. Kathy Mullen is the substitute contact for the summer — 362-3175.

GOLF

Melody, 392-3609.

LATE-BLOOMING LESBIANS

Firstly, my apologies for omitting this group from the last newsletter (mea culpa, Ellie).

Are you in the process of coming out? Have you tried the traditional before coming to terms with your sexuality? We are a group of women of all ages who believe it's better late than never. If you feel this group is for you, come check us out. Support group, Wednesday, August 16 at 7 p.m.; Social, August 26. For info, call Debbie P., 725-3449 or Debbie S., 988-0719.

SINGLES ONLY

I hope everyone enjoyed mixing and matching at the July singles dance at the Lambda Center. Let's circle August 19 for the next event which will be a picnic from 5 to 8 p.m. at Dyke 8 out at Folsom Lake off Green Valley Road. Charcoal and paper plates will be provided. Bring your own meat, drinks and a dish to share. Enjoy swimming, fishing, boating, seeing friends and meeting new people. For further info, call Linda, 921-9052.

A.C.A. OR DYSFUNCTIONAL FAMILIES GROUP

The focus of this group is to create a supportive environment for change. We are a Step Study writing workshop, which meets this month on August 10 and 24. The main text is "The 12 Steps, A Way Out." Other current literature will be discussed and applied to personal adult child or dysfunctional experiences. Call Sharon, 454-6056.

OUTDOOR RECREATION

We would like to try horseback riding on September 10. If you're interested in a trail ride at a local foothill stable, call Ellen for details and reservations. Please contact her by August 23 for reservations for a horse. Also, several of us are interested in playing tennis on a regular basis. Call Ellen for more information, 441-7962.

SELF-EMPLOYED WOMEN

Our last meeting was enlightening and informative. Our July topic was marketing. At our August 15 meeting at 7:30 p.m., we will discuss "How to Avoid Burnout." New members are always welcome. For more information, call Aerial, 452-5503 or Carol, 456-6893.

METAPHYSICAL/SPIRITUAL

This group is meeting every other Wednesday: August 2, 16 and 30 at 7:30 p.m. The topic of crystals continues from last month for the first two meetings of this month. Several of the members went to a Summer Solstice celebration. The group is still open; contact Karen, 452-3091 for information.

LESBIAN PARENTS AND KIDS

We will continue to picnic at Carmichael Park on the second Sunday of the month at 3 p.m. (August 13) — Fair Oaks and Grant by the playground equipment. Please, no alcohol. Mothers, children and friends of lesbian mothers welcome — SACWN members, please.

THE BOOK GROUP

Want to really heat up your summer? Join the book group. Our selection for this month is Lesbian Ethics by Sarah Lucia Hoagland, which has been described as "a milestone in the development of lesbian culture." Next meeting is 3 p.m. Sunday, August 20. For more details, call Gretchen, 922-6287.

SOBER AND SOCIAL

The Sober and Social group sponsors a wide variety of alcohol and drug-free events open to all SACWN subscribers, both singles and couples. Call Linda R., 482-6118, for information, date and location of upcoming activities.

Special Interest Groups are alive and thriving. We're working on a survey to let you know how many members are participating in S.I.G.S. New groups if people are interested: Women in Public Service, Women in the Military. Call Ellie, 967-0611, if you're interested in a new group or have feedback about any group.

Special Interest Groups are a special service for SACWN members. At future Special Interest Group functions, you will be asked to show your SACWN membership card.
